WORKERS OF THE WORLD

Every worker needs a union

If we don't stand up for ourselves we are always going to get a raw deal. On our own we can change little, but together we can prevent our employers from treating us like dirt.

The benefits of a union

- People working in unionised workplaces tend to receive more pay and have better terms and conditions. For example, workers in unionised call centres receive an average 25% more pay than people working in non-unionised ones.
- Workers are half as likely to be seriously injured in a unionised workplace which has union safety reps.
- Union workers are more likely to receive paid holidays.
- The more we stand up for ourselves and the less we let management run our lives, the better our lives will be.
- A union gives us the ability to win more control over our lives.

You don't need a degree in sociology to realise that employers care little for their staff and are only interested in their profits.

Capitalism has created a world where we live to work rather than work to live. Bullying and harassment, health and safety, wages and hours, job security, these are all areas where standards have generally declined for workers in recent years.

The result has been more stress, more frustration, more work-related illness and a decline in the overall quality of life.

Support yourself NOT the management

Your membership details are confidential and will not be given to any non-members. It is up to you whether you wish to discuss union membership with your work colleagues, we will not pressure any members to stick their necks out in unpromising situations.

The INDUSTRIAL WORKERS OF THE WORLD is an international union that is open to all workers. Only employers are not allowed to join. As the interests of workers and employers are different and irreconcilable, we oppose partnership agreements between unions and employers.

The IWW is wholly independent and is not controlled by or affiliated to any political party or movement.

We are a DIY union, and our democratic structure keeps bureaucracy to the very minimum. As a result the cost of membership is very low.

We CAN DELIVER advice on legal matters, health and safety, bargaining and negotiating, novel tactics to beat the boss or whatever assistance you may need. If you need to take action against your boss we will try to give you whatever support you ask for.
